Subject: Proposed FSP FAS 157-e

Where is the willingness to make the hard choices with this proposed rule change? Who will benefit? Only the very ones who already broke all the rules and have brought destruction to the world as we know it.

Everyone involved in the actions taken since this crisis started are accountable.

You know that making it possible for the banks to lie about the underlying value of the paper they hold will allow them to continue manufacturing more of it. This will only increase the depth and length of the depression that is upon us. Please don't let that happen.
